PHS
POULTRY
HEALTH SERVICES

Online Lion Training Passport Accredited Courses

Lion Training Passport Module For Egg Producers

Poultry Health Services deliver knowledge on poultry health, welfare and biosecurity, helping to support best practice procedures within the flock. These Lion Training Passport courses are designed to give egg producers the flexibility to access information whenever and wherever suits them, at a touch of a button. They include step-by-step processes that will enhance seasonal activities.

Lion Training Passport Module For Egg Producers

This course covers all of the individual modules for the Lion Training Passport Course that are detailed on the reverse.

- Biosecurity, site security and egg quality

- Poultry Health and Welfare: Stockman

- Poultry Health and Welfare: Management

Course Module Details PTO

Call: 01347 820366 to find out more
Available online at: www.farmIQ.co.uk/courses/poultry

Insight · Innovation · Results

Biosecurity and Egg Quality

This module covers definitions and reasons for biosecurity, procedures and disease control (including notifiable disease), legislative requirements, codes of practice and industry standards.

Egg quality standards, print requirements and definition codes, legislative requirements, codes of practice, Lion Code and industry standards are covered amongst personal hygiene, record keeping, salmonella control, waste disposal and site security.

Poultry Health & Welfare: Management

This module covers health and welfare management to include the legislative requirements, codes of practice, lion code and industry standards, record keeping, emergency procedures, awareness of five freedoms, identification of normal and abnormal behaviour (including feather pecking), causes of stress in poultry and identification of birds that need culling.

Accommodation and equipment required to maintain bird welfare and enrichment including monitoring the environmental and litter conditions, range management and predator control. Details are also provided on the responsible use of medicines, salmonella control and the identification of poultry diseases.

Poultry Health & Welfare: Stockman

This module covers health and welfare management within the poultry industry, which includes the details of legislative requirements, codes of practice, Lion Code and industry standards, record keeping, emergency procedures, awareness of the five freedoms and identifications of normal and abnormal behaviour.

Causes of stress in poultry and identification of birds that need culling including the accommodation and equipment required to maintain bird welfare and enrichment is also discussed, amongst monitoring environmental and litter conditions, range management and bird handling. The role of your veterinary surgeon, the veterinary health plan and identification of poultry diseases and control measures.

GAME PIGEON & BACKYARD

DIAGNOSTICS & DATA ANALYSIS

BREEDING & HATCHERY

COMMERCIAL POULTRY

Call: 01347 820366 to find out more
Available online at: www.farmIQ.co.uk/courses/poultry
poultryhealthservices.com